MR SPEAKER (MR MOATLHODI): Good morning Honourable Members. Let us start our business of today with the Second Reading of the Civil Aviation (Amendment) Bill, 2021 (No. 30 of 2021).

BILL

CIVIL AVIATION (AMENDMENT) BILL, 2021 (NO. 30 OF 2021)

Second Reading

MINISTER OF TRANSPORT AND COMMUNICATIONS (MR SEGOKGO): Ke a leboga Mr Speaker, and a very good morning to you sir.

Mr Speaker, I beg to present the Civil Aviation (Amendment) Bill, 2021, which was published in the Government Gazette on the 5th November, 2021.

Mr Speaker, as a statutory body, the Civil Aviation Authority of Botswana (hereinafter the CAAB) has been conferred with the mandate to advise the Government of Botswana on all issues relating to civil aviation, as well as Botswana's obligations arising from the international Conventions to which Botswana is party. Civil Aviation Authority of Botswana (CAAB) must perform its functions in a manner consistent with the obligations of Botswana under the Chicago Convention and any other Agreement between Botswana and other countries. The Chicago Convention and its Standards and Recommended Practices (SARPS) are the bedrock of all international aviation regulatory framework. It is important to note here that the International Civil Aviation Organisation (ICAO) periodically issues new requirements and amendments to requirements contained in SARPS. Consequently, contracting states are required to periodically update their laws to bring them into conformity with all requirements issued by ICAO.

Mr Speaker, the last amendment of the Civil Aviation Act was in 2011. A period of 11 years has elapsed without aligning our legislation with new requirements issued by ICAO. In 2018, ICAO conducted a safety audit in Botswana. The audit covered eight critical elements, including Critical Element Number 1 being State Legislation and Critical Element Number 2 being Regulations. In terms of Critical Element Number 1 Mr Speaker, the Civil Aviation Act was found to be defective in several areas, which I will touch on below:

- (i) Definitions
- (ii) Key responsibilities of the Civil Aviation Authority of Botswana were not specified in the Act.
- (iii) Alignment with key corporate governance principles
- (iv) Enhancement of provisions dealing with air navigation services and publication of aeronautical charts
- (v) Provision of aeronautical meteorology services.

Mr Speaker, I will now highlight the proposed amendments in the Bill, to close the gaps identified above:

Clauses 2 and 3 captures the omitted and updated definitions.

Clause 5 amends Section 8 of the Act by augmenting the functions of the Authority to include:

- establishment, co-ordination and maintenance of the State Safety Program
- includes performance of economic oversight of air services; and
- protection of consumer rights and promotion of fair trading practices
- Critical Elements of the State Safety Oversight Systems.

Clause 7 captures requirements of corporate governance and amends Section 29 of the Act by providing for the secretary to be appointed by the Board. Mr Speaker, in line with His Excellency the President's Reset Agenda, corporate governance is key in all our State Owned Enterprises (SOEs). The Civil Aviation (Amendment) seeks to align some of its legislative provisions and operations with principles of the King Code IV of Corporate Governance.

Clause 8 amends Section 40 of the Act by;

- providing for navigation facilities sufficient to facilitate international air navigation;

- adoption of appropriate standards systems of communication procedure; and
- collaboration in international measures to secure the publication of aeronautical maps and charts.

Clause 9 amends Section 41 of the Act by deleting the word “AIC” so that “AICs” (that is Aeronautical Information Circulars) published under the Act do not have legal force. Clause 10 amends Section 43 of the Act by removing the requirement that the Authority shall provide specified Aviation Meteorological Services as these are provided by the National Meteorological Services under the National Meteorological Service Act (Cap.65:08).

Clause 11 introduces new Section 44A to make provision for the documents such as certificate of registration, certificate of airworthiness and crew member licenses amongst others, to be kept on board of an aircraft.

Clause 12 amends Section 45 of the Act to provide that the Authority shall establish and maintain, not only a system for the national registration of aircraft but also rights and interests in an aircraft.

Clause 13 amends Section 58 of the Act to establish a Flight Safety Oversight Unit to carry out the responsibilities for licensing, certification and on-going inspections of aircraft aviation personnel and operators.

Clause 14 amends Section 60 of the Act to ensure that inspectors have unhindered access to any records and information belonging to or in relation to any aircraft, aerodrome and approved maintenance organisation, amongst others, required in the exercise of their surveillance or oversight functions.

Clause 15 amends Section 62 of the Act to provide for the obligations of state of registry pursuant to the agreement for the transfer of the functions and duties.

Clause 16 introduces Section 62A to provide for measures of assistance to aircraft in distress over Botswana airspace.

Clause 17 amends Section 64 of the Act to provide that the Authority rather than the Minister, shall be notified of the intention to erect or modify any building or other installations that may affect air navigation services.

Clause 18 amends Section 68 of the Act to provide that the Minister shall have jurisdiction over investigations of any civil aircraft accident or serious incident occurring in or over Botswana.

Clause 19 amends Section 70 of the Act to provide that the Director shall institute and conduct investigations into an accident or serious incident.

Clause 20 amends Section 72 of the Act to ensure that the Accident Investigation Authority has immediate and unhampered access and control over relevant materials or evidence for the purposes of investigating an accident or serious incident. The provision further requires persons involved in the operation of an aircraft to submit to medical examination tests, including pathological or toxicological tests.

Clause 21 amends Section 74 of the Act to provide that the Minister may cause the report of an investigation to be published.

Clause 22 amends Section 75 of the Act to provide, amongst others that the report of an investigation or any part of it shall be separate from, and shall not be admissible as, evidence in any legal, disciplinary or other proceedings.

Clause 23 introduces Section 75A to provide for voluntary and mandatory incident reporting system in order to facilitate the collection of information. The provision further provides for the protection of information and sources of such information.

Clause 24 amends Section 80 of the Act to make provision for persons aggrieved by the decisions of the Authority relating to compliance and enforcement related activities to also appeal against that decision to the Appeals Tribunal.

Clause 25 amends Section 89 of the Act to provide that the Minister shall also make regulations relating to the establishment and maintenance of the State Safety Program and the operation of remotely piloted aircraft.

Clause 26 amends Section 90 of the Act to require the Minister to act on the advice of the authority before issuing any exemptions under this Act. This section is further amended in order to provide for the exemptions to be granted to be in writing and to specify the time and when the aviation service provider is expected by the authority to fully comply.

Clause 27 introduces a new Section 91A to criminalise the use of weapons against aircrafts.

Clause 28 inserts a new schedule to the Act dealing with the Critical Elements (CEs) of the State Safety Oversight (SSO) System. I so move Mr Speaker.

MR SPEAKER: Order! Honourable Members, the matter is open for debate.

MR KEORAPETSE (SELEBI PHIKWE WEST):

Mr Speaker, thank you so much for giving me this opportunity to air my views on the Civil Aviation (Amendment) Bill, 2021.

Three important points I wish to make. Mr Speaker, the aviation industry is one area in which we can create jobs and diversify this economy. Since Honourable Segokgo got into office, he looks like he is comfortable with following the script that he has inherited because I have not heard of any new ground-breaking changes in the sector to create more jobs and make the industry more profitable. We were expecting him to inform us on how he plans to get more airlines to land and take off here, how to increase revenue sources, and how he plans to maximise revenue generation at the airports. All we hear is lamentations in the past that airlines no longer come to Botswana, and that there is a struggle to collect fees from airlines that overfly Botswana airspace.

There is a need Honourable Minister to formulate a policy that allows for small domestic carriers to enter the market; this I have said before. CAAB needs to draft measures such as reduced landing, parking and navigation fees for small carriers; carriers that seemed to be utilised, underutilised airports like Selebi Phikwe, Gantsi, Francistown must be incentivised by offering them reduced passenger taxes, navigation fees, landing fees et cetera, as it is the case with budget airlines like your EasyJet, Ryanair, Mango, Kulula and others.

The Government through CAAB should genuinely liberalise the market, walk the talk on this matter Honourable Minister. CAAB should stop hindering new private carriers to operate on certain roads as a way to protect the Air Botswana monopoly. CAAB should also build an airstrip or airport in Letlhakane la Orapa or Orapa to allow new carriers to operate Gaborone to Lethlakane or Orapa area, which has some of the best paid employees in the country, working in the mines, with a lot of disposable income. It cannot be that it remains only accessible through private airstrips.

Coming to your Bill specifically, one ingredient of aviation safety is motivated staff. It is sad how you dealt with COVID-19 by placing some workers on effective unpaid leaves, and you applied no work no pay. I do not know any SOE, and I stand to be corrected, which has done what you have done at Air Botswana, somewhere Botswana workers have lost properties as a result. I am advised you have lost a case before the Commissioner of Labour on this matter, it may be headed for the courts. So, please comply with the 6th August 2021 Court of Appeal judgement in a matter between Air Botswana and Air Botswana Employees' Union (ABEU). Pay all workers and not only those who are unionised or those who were litigants in the matter I have indicated. The not unionised workers have not been paid and you have not indicated whether you will pay them or not. So, I do not know whether you want them to go to court so that you can lose again and then be compelled to pay. As I have said in the beginning when addressing the Bill before us, one ingredient of aviation safety is motivated staff. I have watched air crash investigations, in which disgruntled staff was in some cases cause of accidents.

The Bill emanates as you have indicated, from the ICAO audit of 2018, and let us try to promptly respond to such audits. I do not think that we should be years late, you have been sitting on the report since 2019. If it was not for COVID-19, a follow-up by ICAO would have been in 2021; it was pushed back to 2022. So, really, there is no excuse why we are late because audit frequencies are no secret, they are at three year intervals.

On Clauses 18, 19, 20 to 22 you seem not to be conforming to international best practice. For instance, you are conferred with powers if this Bill is passed, to have authority over accident scenes. Director of Investigation Authority (DIA) will be in charge of investigation; well and good. It is also provided that there will be no use of this information as evidence in legal proceedings. That is okay because most aviation laws are crafted or are worded that way, but other similar laws elsewhere, which is a critical point, they make provisions for parallel investigations that go into looking at criminal liability. ICAO principles are that the spirit of accident investigation must not be to punish, but to gather facts which may aid aviation safety. In some circumstances, there may be criminal liability requiring prosecution, and the law must allow for that. Investigations should be done in parallel with law enforcement agencies so that in cases where there is criminal liability, prosecution can arise based on the report from the law enforcement agency, since the report from the DIA cannot be used in court. It is a point that I have said I agree with because other international aviation laws are crafted that way.

If you were to look at the American Congress, and I implore this Parliament to do the same, they established National Transportation Safety Board in 1967 as an independent investigative agency of the United States (US), with the authority to investigate state and federal regulatory oversight of the transportation industries, and to identify the causes of accident to prevent similar accidents in the future. In short, to achieve its objective, congress granted the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) priority over any investigation by another department, agency or instrumentality of the US Government, but the grant of authority, my point, and that initially authority over the accident site and investigative activities did not mean exclusive authority. More precisely, congress added that the requirement that the NTSB provides for appropriate participation by other departments, agencies or instrumentalities in the investigation. So, importantly, congress permits investigations by other governmental entities to run simultaneously or parallel with the NTSB investigations. Specifically, congress expressly instructed that the statutory powers of the NTSB do not affect the authority of another department, agency or instrumentality of the Government to investigate an accident under applicable law or to obtain information directly from the parties involved in and witnesses to the accident.

Consequently, the other investigative entities may and frequently do run parallel criminal investigations and even prosecute underlying misconduct related to major accidents being investigated by the NTSB. Can we have similar provisions and capacity of law enforcement organs such as the police to make our skies safer.

The last point I wish to make; and I hope you got me on this one, that let us have parallel investigation and let us also capacitate the Botswana Police and other agencies so that they will be able to mount parallel investigations on accidents because the objective is to make our skies much safer.

On your powers, there is conflict of interest Honourable Minister. In other countries, the aviation regulator, CAAB and the accident investigator, the DIA, do not report to the same Minister like in the Botswana context. The accident investigator should be independent. Let us take hypothetical scenario Honourable Minister of an air accident involving Air Botswana Aircraft, and the DIA investigation points to lapses from Air Botswana and CAAB, there may be a possibility that you would have every reason for that report either not to be released or to be watered down, or to be in a particular way, and the only way to cure that conflict of interest, will be to make sure that the regulator which is the CAAB and the accident investigator, DIA, do not report to you. The other one must report elsewhere, the other one must also report elsewhere.

As I have said, you will enlighten me on that scenario in terms of how would you avoid a conflict of interest if there is an air crash investigation involving Air Botswana aircraft and the report brings to lapses in both the Air Botswana and CAAB and my view is that we may not have a clean report as you may have every reason in that report to either be a classified report or to be watered down or to appear in a particular way. Otherwise, I do not have a problem with the Bill as it is, but I wish that such amendments could be made so that we are able to run parallel investigation to establish whether or not there is criminal liability in air crash or aircraft accidents. Thank you Right Honourable Speaker.

Mr Speaker, let me stand to support this important Bill gore e bo e tlide ka nako, e bile during challenging and trying times. I support the Amendment Bill Mr Speaker, I rest my case.

MR BOKO (MAHALAPYE EAST): Thank you Mr Speaker. Let me take this time go go lebogela go bo o mphile sebaka se. Ke dumedise Batlotlegi Mapalamente, le nna ke nne le nako to respond to the Bill that is before us, under the heading, “Botswana’s untapped opportunities in the airspace.”

Mr Speaker, I had an opportunity to go through the Bill yesterday night and this morning, to fully appreciate what the Bill is about. I have been able to discuss it with those who are knowledgeable in this area of aviation.

Mr Speaker, these amendments come at a time when local aviation industry experts long pointed out the need to invest in the country’s airspace, as a vital aspect in enabling Botswana to have a strategic advantage over some of its neighbours. Mr Speaker, you will recall very well that about 12 years ago, the Botswana Civil Aviation Authority took a bold decision to liberalise the country's airspace. Mr Speaker, that was a move that was met with optimism. Liberalisation was expected to not only improve choice and delivery of air services, but also to complement the tourism business and other sectors. You will recall quite well Mr Speaker, that the nation was told at the time that liberalisation will effectively allow private air carriers as opposed to state-owned, in the case of Air Botswana, to operate scheduled services to various domestic points. To date Mr Speaker, the nation has not fully enjoyed the liberalisation. We still have the poorly run Air Botswana dominating the local airspace Mr Speaker.

Once in a while, we hear about chartered flights domestically, and we are yet to witness scheduled flights, for instance between Gaborone and Maun or Maun and Ghanzi Region. This is a sign that our Civil Aviation Sector is not growing. It is not growing at all, it is stagnant and there is little or no hope, but we hope that the new Minister will turn the tables around and something positive will come from his able hands.

As a matter of fact Mr Speaker, lately there has been a reversal of the little gains that were made by this sector. Mr Speaker, you will recall that sometimes in September 2019, Kenya Airways moved into operating a direct flight to Nairobi. Where is Kenya Airways now? The same thing can be asked about Air Namibia which also operated a flight between Windhoek, that is in Namibia, Gaborone and Durban which is in South Africa. In short Mr Speaker, there is limited growth in terms of attracting and retaining new players in the Civil Aviation Sector, and this says a lot about either our regulator or the country marketers. This has to change, and it has to change now.

Mr Speaker, the stagnant growth does not only harm the national economy or fiscus in terms of limited receipts of taxes among other things, but also makes life very difficult for a few Batswana whose pockets allow them to fly. We know very well how it is expensive to fly between Gaborone and Maun or between Maun and Kasane. The general expectation was that the liberalisation of the airspace will increase competition, and therefore reduce air prices which have in the past have made it difficult because they have been very high. For a long time in our country Mr Speaker, the prices have been very high, making it expensive for sectors like the tourism to expand. I will give you an example Mr Speaker, in South Africa, one can buy air ticket to travel between Johannesburg and Cape Town for as little as R350. It is a fact, and it cannot be disputed. This is a distance of over 1300 kilometres, but in our beloved country Botswana, a return trip between Maun and Gaborone which is less than 1000 km cost over P2000. This is mainly linked to limited options that we have here.

Mr Speaker, ever since the so-called liberalisation, frequencies of domestic flights has not increased and dependency on one national carrier is the chorus we are still singing, and I must emphasise that it is an extremely boring chorus that we continue to sing Mr Speaker. Mr Speaker, I am highlighting all these issues because the amendments before us today are not signalling any positive intent to provide any direction and structure to the Aviation Sector. There are mainly meant to over-regulate, and as usual give more powers to one man, the Minister himself.

As seen on the amendments, the new law provides that the Minister shall have jurisdiction over investigation of any civil aircraft accident. This Mr Speaker, could come with more trouble. One would have hoped that the ministry would be much more concerned about the failure, its failure to ensure growth in the Civil Aviation Sector, more especially domestic flights.

From where I stand Mr Speaker, the Government's ownership of the national carrier negatively influences policy decision and has cost the taxpayers millions of Pulas over the past years. That is why the main concern now should be, how do we make sure that we truly open up airspace for domestic flights without holding ourselves back because we would hurt Air Botswana? In short Mr Speaker...

...Silence...

MR SPEAKER: Honourable Boko, did we lose you?

MR BOKO: I am here Mr Speaker, I was still drinking water, sorry about that. In short Mr Speaker, progressive law amendment should not only be about giving powers to one man, but also to ensure that we have a long-term roadmap for developing our centrally located country as a significant player in the aviation market of Africa.

That is all I had Mr Speaker, I hope that Minister was taking notes as I have been debating this Bill. We hope that since you are a new broom, you will sweep clean. That is all for me Mr Speaker. Thank you for giving this opportunity and for being a good father that you are of recent. Thank you Mr Speaker.

BOTSWANA’S EXPORT AND IMPORT TRADE BALANCE

MR M. BALOPI (GABORONE NORTH): asked the Minister of Finance and Economic Development how Botswana’s Export and Import Trade balance/deficit/imbalance is, in comparison to five years ago and further state:

- (i) whether Botswana can achieve High Income status under the current trade balance/imbalance and, if so, when can this high Income status be realistically achieved; and

- (ii) if Government has not identified any items on which money is spent outside the country but which can be undertaken locally in order to circulate the money in the economy for job creation.

MINISTER OF FINANCE AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT (MS SERAME): Thank you Mr Speaker, and good afternoon.

Mr Speaker, Botswana's trade balance was a deficit of P23.2 billion in 2020 compared to a surplus of P16.1 billion in 2016. This change is mainly due to a substantial decline in exports, which fell from P80.4 billion in 2016 to P48.2 billion in 2020, or 33 per cent; which, in turn, reflects variable performance in the diamond market.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted negatively on Botswana's trade balance, especially the top two export earners, being diamonds and tourism. Imports, on the other hand increased from P64.3 billion in 2016 to P71.4 billion or 11 per cent in 2020. Therefore, changes in Botswana's trade balance were driven much more by the performance of exports than the level of imports.

However, it should be noted that the negative trade balance is not a complete reflection of the country's external position. The more relevant balance to consider is the overall balance of payments rather than the trade balance. Indeed, as a matter of logic, positive trade balances in some countries must, by definition, be accompanied by an equivalent total of negative trade balances in other countries.

Besides the trade balance, there are other balances that constitute the external balance or balance of payments of the country. These include; income, transfers and capital flows. A country may have a negative trade balance, but a positive balance on the balance of payments, depending on those other items. It is therefore important Mr Speaker, to note that it is the overall balance that determines changes in the level of foreign exchange reserves.

A further important point to note is that negative trade balances are common across countries. Indeed, as a matter of logic, positive trade balances in some countries are accompanied by an equivalent, as I have already indicated, total negative trade balances in other countries.

- (i) Mr Speaker, the high income status, it is important to note that this is determined by the level of a country's Gross Domestic Product (GDP) per capita. GDP or output, is driven by various economic activities, including consumption and investment as well as imports and exports. In other words, production for both the domestic market and the export market drive GDP growth. Hence, the Government's policy focus on both import substitution and export-led growth. In the long run, it is export-led growth which is more important, as it has far greater potential for growing GDP. International experience shows that rapid export-led growth and diversification is the key to achieving high-income status. While import substitution also plays a role, it should be noted that many high-income countries also have high levels of imports.

Relating to whether we will achieve the high-income status by 2036 I must indicate that this requires an annual real GDP growth of around 6 per cent a year, over the 15 years from 2022 to 2036. This is significantly higher than the average annual growth rate of about 4 per cent over the decade before the shock caused by the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020. Hence structural change in the drivers of growth is required. This is achievable Mr Speaker, though, but is primarily dependent on raising productivity and the successful diversification of exports so that the desired export-led growth model can be achieved.

I am summarizing Mr Speaker, because my response is quite lengthy, but I think I will just cover the sealing points.

- (ii) Finally, Mr Speaker, Government has implemented various policies and other measures to encourage local production for import substitution. This includes the Economic Diversification Drive (EDD) in 2011 and other policies overtime, and most recently, the Economic Inclusion Act as well as the Public Procurement Act should also help us in terms of achieving some level of import substitution in a number of areas.

Relating to the data, this is readily available from Statistic Botswana, and it is information that is used by the Ministry of Investment, Trade and Industry (MITI) as well as Botswana Investment and Trade Centre (BITC) to determine and to direct investors on the areas that they can invest on. Let me just highlight that some of the examples of the products with characteristics that are in high demand locally they include selected agricultural products, processed food items, building materials, furniture, and chemicals.

Mr Speaker, these are areas where one can ... (Interruptions)...this is a summary Mr Speaker. I will share a detailed response with the Honourable Member. I thank you.

MR BALOPI: Supplementary. Ke a leboga Mr Speaker. Tla ke leboge Tona gore a bo a file karabo ka manontlhotlhlo a a e fileng ka one and I will also follow up the offer ya gore o tlaa mpha written response. STANDPIPE AT TEWANE VILLAGE

MR D. TSHERE (MAHALAPYE WEST): asked the Minister of Land Management, Water and Sanitation Services to apprise this Honourable House on the progress made following the request to put up a stand pipe at Mogotha Kgotla in Tewane village.

MINISTER OF LAND MANAGEMENT, WATER AND SANITATION SERVICES (MR MZWINILA): Thank you Mr Speaker. Mr Speaker, this question is a follow-up to the commitment I made to provide a public standpipe at Mogotha ward in Tewane village.

The standpipe in Tewane village, was planned to be constructed this financial year. Water Utilities Corporation (WUC) experienced challenges due to lack of clear servitude as the plots in the village are not clearly demarcated. The land board is still waiting for detailed plots demarcation from the council, before we can proceed with the construction of a new water service line to the standpipe point. The demarcation exercise is expected to be completed in June 2022. This exercise is important to avoid overlapping the water pipeline with plots already allocated but not demarcated. I thank you Mr Speaker.

(Resumed Debate)

MR SPEAKER: Order! Order! Honourable Members, when the House adjourned, the Honourable Minister of Transport and Communications was on the floor responding to the debate. Honourable Minister, you may continue.

MINISTER OF TRANSPORT AND COMMUNICATIONS (MR SEGOKGO): Ke a leboga Mr Speaker. Correctly so, and when we adjourned, there was just an issue that I was addressing, a clarification sought by Honourable Mokgethi, as to the Minister having jurisdiction over the accident, and whether it is permitted for parallel investigations.

Honourable Mokgethi, I am advised so, that in fact, it does allow for that. The jurisdiction ya ga Tona o a bo a sa tlhotlhomi criminal activity and that sought of thing, and there are laws that pertain to that, and under that, they are able to pursue such matters in the course of investigation.

Ke ne ke tsweletse Mr Speaker, ke tsibogela...

MR KEORAPETSE: Clarification on that point Honourable Minister. Thank you Mr Speaker. On that point, I understand the concern ya ga Honourable Mokgethi because that is exactly my concern, ya gore kana there is nothing in the law that explicitly precludes parallel investigations, but however, there is also nothing in black and white that says there can be parallel investigations. So, what harm would it do if we craft our aviation laws in the way that in other jurisdictions, they have worded them in making clear provisions in the aviation law for parallel investigations that may go into looking at criminal liability? I think that is where the concern is, because there may be an interpretation that it actually does preclude by being silent.

MR SEGOKGO: Ke a leboga Honourable Keorapetse. Whilst my answer remains exactly what I answered, mo nakong e, ga ke na a clear answer to you in respect to what harm it would cause, so ke kopa gore ke name ke tsweletse ka yone ka gore tota I will not answer sufficiently to say gore there would be harm or no harm. Mr Speaker, sebui sa bobedi e ne e le Honourable Boko. I touched on the issues tse a neng a buile ka tsone, not so much pertaining to the Bill, but just growth of the aviation industry. Ke supile jalo Mr Speaker, gore in fact there was growth in the aviation industry and that growth e ne e supagala even in passenger volumes. If you take 2012 I think, annually at a 190 000, bo 2019 thereabout crossing well over 220 000.

Se sengwe Mr Speaker, ke gore the concerns have been raised on airfares and more specifically Air Botswana airfares. Ke amogela these concerns raised by members and we are constantly engaging le Air Botswana to see gore how is it that they can achieve reductions in their airfares, but these involve quite substantive activity which involves go lebelela their aircraft fleet, the passengers they are carrying and the rate at which they must charge their fares. So I take that Honourable Members, mme ke a amogela, ke tsaya gore ke kgang e ke tlaabong ke ntse ke e tshwaraganetse le bone go bona gore re ka fokotsa jang fares tsa Air Botswana.

Honourable Monnakgotla o ne a bua a ema nokeng (support), mme e bile a bua ka botlhokwa jwa safety. Tota fela ke lebogela mafoko a gagwe otlhe, nte ke rialo ka botlalo, a ba a ya go kgoma gore kana le yone safety e akaretsa le ba ba neetsweng mafelo gore ba gwebe mo airport. Ke a itsce mme gore fa re bua ka budget ya ministry wa me, kgangkgolo thata e nna ditsela, tse dingwe tse e bo e kete di beelwa fa morago. Ke batla go supa gore ke a amogela tota gore re a sekaseka go bona gore re ka tokafatsa jang go fofa ga difofane bogolo jang kwa bophirimatsatsi jwa lefatshe leno. Ke e soboke jalo, ke lebile airfields le airstrips. Mabaka a a ntshitsweng ke a ke a amogelang; Bojanala le go thusa ba ba tlhokang thuso ya potlako ya botsogo.

Honourable Ramogapi le ene o ne a support Bill, mme o ne a nna mo ntlheng ya fair competition. A ngongoregela charges tse di neng di lefisiwa (charge) ke ba Civil Aviation, mme e bile gape a bua gore o kare di fa godimonyana. Ke tsaya gore charges tsa rona mo Botswana, ka fa ke di tlhaloganyang, ke di lekodisiwa ka teng, di fa tlase, re fa tlase ga mafatshe otlhe a a re dikologileng. Ke tsaya gore ka tsela e e ntseng jalo Honourable Ramogapi, re tlaa tsenya leitlho, mme fela ke go raya ke re fa o ka re tshwantshanya le airports fela tse dingwe tsotlhe tse di re dikologileng, re fa tlase e bile ba setse ba na le kopo ya gore a re ne re ka se ka ra oketsa gongwe charges.

E nngwe ke flights tsa Air Botswana tse di neng di khanselwa. Tota rraetsho, Air Botswana kana e tsamaisa kgwebo, ba tsaya ditshwetso ba le koo ka flights tsa bone ka mabaka a ba ka bong ba a lebile.
